VICTORIA INVITES OAK BAY TO BE PART OF CITY

EXTENSION OF CITY LIMITS TO INCLUDE OAK BAY UNDER DISCUSSION BY ALDERMEN

Existing Bond Issues Would be Charges Against Present Areas; Time Believed Ripe for Amalgamation of Civic Bodies; Aldermen See Prosperity Ahead of City and Prepare to Meet New Conditions.

Sitting as the Greater Victoria committee this afternoon the City Council considered tentative proposals that may be offered inviting Oak Bay to drop its separate municipal entity and become part of the city of Victoria.

Convinced that Victoria is on the eve of great developments and restoration of prosperity more stable than any experienced prior to the outbreak of the Great War, Alderman A. E. Todd, chairman of the City Council when it sits as the Greater Victoria committee, has called the first meeting of this committee for the present year.

NO DEBT TRANSFER

In view of the great difference in bonded indebtedness, the tentative proposals being discussed this afternoon will likely turn upon the main feature of the system of repayment of the present debt by the property owners in the districts concerned, Victoria taxpayers being responsible for the funds required in the coming forty years to meet the city's issued bonds, and the Oak Bay taxpayers likewise being taxed for their present bond issues until these mature and are fully redeemed.

OAK BAY NEEDS

A number of large undertakings loom ahead of Oak Bay as essential municipal expenditures, among these being construction of a modern high school and the laying of a new trunk watermain. Both are essential to the advancement of Oak Bay, and must be undertaken within the next five years. Each of these works will re-

FIRE IN MONTREAL MADE 200 HOMELESS

Apartment House, Twenty Dwellings, Ice House and Stable Were Destroyed

Firemen Fought Stubbornly While Large Part of City Menaced; Won Battle

Montreal, Aug. 25.—More than 200 people, members of sixty-one families, resident in the East End, of Montreal, are homeless to-day following the biggest fire Montreal has seen for many a year.

It broke out about 11 o'clock last night near the corner of Bimery and Bungeit Streets, and, driven by a steady wind, devoured a large section of the block.

LARGE AREA OF RUINS

To-day a great gap filled only with smoking ruins marks the site where yesterday were an apartment house, twenty dwelling houses and an ice house and stable. The fire originated in the ice house from some unknown cause. An unofficial estimate placed the damage at $5,000,000.

While there were no casualties from the fire, three people went to hospital during the firefighting. Two firemen were overcome by smoke and a woman standing in a shop had an arm broken when a fire door crashed through the shop front. (Continued on page 1.)

GASOLINE PRICE NOW CUT IN U.S.

New York, Aug. 25.—Reductions in the price of gasoline ranging from two cents a gallon to half a cent have been announced by the Sinclair Oil and Refining Company and Standard Oil Company. The two-cent cut was made by the Sinclair Company in mid-western states to meet a similar cut announced by the Standard Oil Company of Indiana last night. The Standard Oil Company of New Jersey dropped its price half a cent a gallon on gasoline throughout its entire territory. This was the fourth reduction announced this month by that company.

PRAIRIE CROP WORTH $100,000,000 MORE THAN LAST YEAR

Toronto, Aug. 25.—Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railways, who arrived in Toronto to-day from the West, stated the prairie crop would be worth $100,000,000 more than last year's.

"The crop is good, though not a bumper one," he said.

Conditions in the West are excellent, according to Sir Henry, who has just returned from a tour of inspection of the western lines of the system.

SPEEDING MUST STOP, WARNS MAGISTRATE

Fines Will be Increased Autoists Are Told in Police Court

"I am going to increase all fines against those persons who are convicted of driving automobiles to the common danger," said Magistrate George Jay this morning, following the conviction of two drivers in the Provincial Police Court. "Fast driving along the highways, which are often enough crowded with cars, is likely to lead to serious accidents and so for the sake of the general public the offenders will be prosecuted and dealt with more severely unless speeding stops."

Fred Tubman, driver of a thirty-five passenger trolley, paid $10 for operating the machine without a license.

John B. Smith and William Jackson were each fined $25 for driving to the common danger on the Island Highway in the vicinity of the Colwood Golf Links. Smith paid a fine of $1 for driving without driver's license. Both were given severe warnings by the magistrate.

"This sort of thing has got to be stopped," declared Magistrate George Jay after hearing evidence. "I have the power to fine offenders to the extent of $500, and the fines are going to increase."

PREMIER TO DELIVER SPEECH ON SEPT. 5

Mr. King Then Expected to Make Statement on Federal Election Plans

Graham and Murphy Also Will Speak at Richmond Hill, Ont.

Ottawa, Aug. 25.—Premier King is expected to lift the veil when he addresses his constituents of North York, Ontario, at Richmond Hill, on Saturday, September 5. Indications are that the speech will be a political pronouncement of prime importance and that he will then announce the Government's intention in regard to dissolution of Parliament. Probabilities still favor a general election this fall.

Premier King will be accompanied to Richmond Hill by Mr. Hon. G. F. Graham, Minister of Railways, and Mr. Hon. J. A. Macdonald, Minister of Finance.

500 DEFENDANTS IN BULGAR TRIAL

Sofia, Aug. 25.—Nearly 500 Communists are expected to be tried in a group shortly in the little town of Turnovo in order to clear the courts of cases which have been pending since former Premier Stamboulsky was overthrown and killed in June, 1923. The Communists were arrested by the Tsanoff Government at that time. Ten thousand witnesses will be summoned.

DENVER POLICE SEEK MAN WHO STOLE PLANE

Denver, Col., Aug. 25.—Denver police are on the trail of the city's first alleged airplane thief, Mrs. L. H. Friesser of Houston, Texas, having charged last night that her two-seater aeroplane had been stolen by her pilot.

Mrs. Friesser told the authorities she had flown from Houston here with a man whose name she gave as Francis Rust, also of Houston, who acted as pilot of the plane. Rust, she told the police, took the aeroplane while she was away from the aviation field.

BANK FIGURES SHOW TRADE OF CANADA IS INCREASING

Ottawa, Aug. 25.—An increase of $97,155,000 in the amount of cheques charged against bank accounts in the clearing house centres of Canada is shown for the month of July last as compared with the preceding month. The debits, by way of cheques charged to individual accounts in the month under review, totaled $2,248,362,000, as against $2,151,207,000 in June. An increase of $90,681,000 in the bank clearings during July as compared with June last was also reported to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics by the Canadian Bankers' Association. Last month the clearings totaled $1,330,760,000.

Cut in Operating Outlays Improves Figures of C.N.R.

Montreal, Aug. 25.—Official figures issued here to-day show the Canadian National Railways made a notable advance in net revenue during the seven-month period ended July 31, and that the improvement was made in the face of decreased gross receipts.

The gross receipts were $3,924,571, or 6.3 per cent below the corresponding figure for 1924, but the op-

Provincial Police Find Bodies of Missing Prince George Men; "The Roof Leaks, Goodbye" is Message of Dying Man to His Son.

Lying face down in their bunks in a frail cabin in the northern trapping lands of B.C. respected even by wild animals as hallowed to the use of the dead, the bodies of Peter Ackerman and George Williams, missing trappers of the Prince George district have been recovered by the Provincial police.

One year ago Ackerman and Williams put out into the wilds north of Fort St. James and made their camp on the north bank of the Nation river, sixty miles northwest of Fort George and two miles west of the 124th meridian. They took food and supplies enough to last them a year and had made arrangements to be resupplied at the end of that time.

BRINGS INDIANS OF "WITCHCRAFT" CASE FROM PRINCE RUPERT

Sergeant Bob Owens of the provincial police returned to-day from escort duty at the Prince Rupert Assizes. He brought Bis Alex, the Liard River Indian, sentenced to five years for manslaughter in connection with the "witchcraft" case at Thirty Mile Bar, where the boy Atol or Wastella Moccasin was found dead after days of exposure, and the rest of the Indian party. The woman Eddie was given suspended sentence and returns with the three Loo brothers to the reservation in Northern B.C. Paulina Pene was sentenced to three years on a charge of obscuring actual bodily harm. Albert Edison, a white man, was given six months on a charge of theft of $240 at Hazelton. Sergeant Owens lodged the prisoners at Hazelton and returned here to-day. Constable Cline of Hazelton accompanied the party on escort duty on the way south.

ARCTIC SHIPS ARE DELAYED

Washington, Aug. 25.—Bad weather has forced the MacMillan Arctic expedition to halt on its way south from Etah, Greenland. A dispatch received at the Navy Department to-day from Lieut.-Commander Byrd, commanding the navy steamer, said: "Peary and Bowdoin are laying to at Booth on account of bad weather."

$11,000 ROBBERY IN INDIANA

Danville, Illa., Aug. 25.—Floyd Reed, vice-president, and Earl Bryant, cashier of the American State Bank of St. Bernice, Ind., forty miles southeast of here, were held up early to-day en route from Clinton, Ind., with an $11,000 payroll of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad. Five masked men in a motor car held up the bank officers, taking them into a cornfield. The robbers shot the radiator of the bankers' car full of holes.

DIAMOND WAS FOUND IN CANDY

St. Catharines, Ont., Aug. 25.—Beverly Browne, thirteen-year-old St. Catharines girl, bit on something hard in a candy she had purchased at Lakeside Park, Port Dalhousie, yesterday. It turned out to be a quarter-carat diamond that had dropped from a ring worn by "Paddy," the concessionaire.

FACTIONS IN GERMAN TOWN HAD A CLASH

Gelsenkirchen, Germany Aug. 25.—Collisions between Communists and members of the "Werewolf" Nationalist organization, during the inauguration of German Flag Day here to-day resulted in the serious wounding of several Nationalists. Thirty Communists were arrested.

MISSING When the party with whom they made the arrangement for further supplies visited the appointed place this Spring, Williams near Ackerman showed up. Their disappearance was reported and Corporal T. Van Dyk of the Prince George post of the provincial police set off on a still hunt for news of the missing men.

Single handed he trekked through the forest for upwards of 100 miles, heading north and northwest from Prince George. By canoe and portage he worked his way up to the banks of the Nation River and there searched for tracks of the men. Months passed and still the officer prosecuted his lone-hand search for the missing men.

IN FRAIL CABIN

At length he came on a frail cabin at the edge of the woods. It was a deserted air. Furs, valuable furs in a fresh condition, had been pulled and scattered about by wild animals near the door of the cabin. Traps, lines and tackle lay in a confused heap at the step. Corporal Van Dyk pushed open the door and came on the bodies of the two men stretched face down across their bunks.

One man had pitched forward from where he sat on a stool at the bedside, and fallen dead across the covers. The other lay on a bed at the far side of the room. Both bodies were fully clothed and in a fairly advanced stage of decomposition.

DYING MESSAGE

FIRE IMPERILED LIVES OF PATIENTS

Fighters Won After Two-hour Battle in Sanitarium Near Hamilton, Ontario

Sufferers With Tuberculosis Calm Though Flames Menaced Them For Hour

Hamilton, Ont., Aug. 25.—Fire which for an hour imperiled the lives of scores of patients in the Mountain Sanitarium, near here, broke out this morning. The blaze was controlled two hours later, after damage amounting to $10,000 had been done.

The origin of the fire is a mystery. Fifty members of the hospital staff were at breakfast in the original house of the farm in the Orchard House section of the tubercular colony when a patient in a nearby building observed the flames in an upper story of the building and gave the alarm.

NO PANIC SEEN
Apparatus was rushed from the Hamilton fire department, the firemen succeeding in preventing the flames from spreading to the nearby buildings, where a large number of the most serious cases were located. The patients preserved coolness in face of the danger, although the spread of the blaze might have meant death to many of the "bed" cases.

KOOTENAY THRIVES ON NEW SPIRIT IN MINE OPERATIONS

Premier Pleased With Activity; Abolition of P.P. Tax Not Planned

The Kootenays, once seething with mining activity are coming back strongly in the mining world, Premier Oliver declared to-day on his return from a week's tour of his constituency of Nelson and surrounding districts.

"In Nelson the businessmen told me that not for years has prospecting been so active," the Premier asserted. "At the mines bureau recently established in Nelson with the aid of a Government grant more inquiries than ever before are being received from capitalists seeking investment. These inquiries are not from promoters but from the actual representatives of capital which is seeking investment in British Columbia mines. It is evident that the Kootenay country is in for a period of marked mining activity. Nelson merchants told me that business this year was much better than it has been for a long time."

While in Nelson the Premier met Board of Trade members and told them, in response to their representations, that the chance of the personal property tax being abolished in the near future was extremely slim.

"I told the Nelson businessmen," the Premier stated, "that they would have to do two things to secure the immediate abolition of the personal property tax—prove in the first place that it was more unjust than any other tax and, secondly, show the Government where it could secure otherwise the revenue now derived from that source."

TWIGG DECIDES TO STAY HERE

H. Despard Twigg, M.P.P. for this city, to-day gave out a denial of the reports that he was resigning his seat in the Legislature here to move from Victoria to Winnipeg to take a business post there.

Mr. Twigg was in Winnipeg for some time during the summer and it is known that efforts were made by interests there to induce him to go to that city to accept one of the important offices of the insurance business in Western Canada.

"I have decided to stay here in Victoria," Mr. Twigg said. "You know I'm in politics and I could not go back on the people who elected me as one of their representatives. Besides, I'm anxious to worry John Oliver a bit; not that I have anything against him personally, as he is a fine old man, but I don't like the policies of many of his friends."

Mr. Twigg will retain his present insurance connection here.

TWO MEN LOSE GRIM BATTLE FOR LIFE IN NORTH

Wills to his son, A. Williams, 10515 106th Street, Edmonton. It told of a man in which lay over $2,000 worth of furs and clothes with the pathetic note: "The roof leaks—goodbye."

From diaries found on both bodies Corporal Van Dyk ascertained that they had had a successful trapping season all winter and had stored away a valuable catch of furs. Then, evidently sickness had overtaken both, as they left their traps and lay up in the cabin.

SICKNESS OVERCOMES THEM

Finally it came to the stage where their strength would not permit them to cook and they lived, the traces indicated, on raw foods. The end came soon after for both men had only strength enough to eat raisins within reach of their hands as they lay on the banks.

Wild animals, sensing something wrong with the cabin, came and poked their snouts under the door, but they did not break in though the postern was a flimsy affair and would have given way without effort. Bears pulled and clawed at the wood-work of the cabin, but left the dead undisturbed.

THE BURIAL SERVICE

Corporal Van Dyk dug a grave at the end of the cabin and reverently laid in it the earthly remains of these two pathetic victims of the wild. Then he recited over the grave what scraps of the burial service he could remember and came south. He collected all the evidence to be found at the cabin, the letters, diaries and furs and much of the way through tangled brush and caned down shooting rapids until he had won clear from his 200-mile hike. At Vanderhoof he laid the evidence before the coroner, Dr. Stone, and it was sufficient to establish beyond doubt the identity of the men and their unfortunate end.

In a report to the headquarters of the Provincial Police here to-day Corporal Van Dyk set out the details of the affair, modestly disclaiming any credit for his work.

Dog Swallowed Radium; Killed

Vienna, Aug. 25.—Forced to choose between paying 20,000,000 kronen or allowing her dog to be killed, Baroness Renner shed bitter tears before the court yesterday, but after a struggle decided to sacrifice the pet.

The dog had a skin disease which veterinarians sought to cure by radium treatment. A capsule of the precious metal, valued at 20,000,000 kronen, was applied to the affected part. The dog preferred an internal application, however, and swallowed the capsule, and the court action followed.

New Australian Capital Supreme, Says Noted Engineer

Few places in the world can rival the pleasant choice for the new Australian capital at Canberra, New South Wales, according to Sir Hugh Keeling, who is in Victoria to-day.

He recently visited Melbourne and was made to the new capital from Melbourne by the end of next year.

Sir Hugh gained his reputation in India as chief engineer and secretary to the chief commissioner for the Delhi administration.

WILL SEE GREAT DEVELOPMENT OF ISLAND'S COAST

Chamber of Commerce Members Will Assist in Island's Industrial Growth

A party of nearly fifty of Victoria's leading business men will leave the city on Tuesday night aboard the Princess Maquinn, September 1, for a tour up the West Coast of Vancouver Island, for the purpose of seeing the developments of the great country to the north, and assisting and encouraging this growth in every way. The party will travel from Victoria to Port Alice, paying special attention to the industrial development.

THE PARTY

Amongst those who will leave Victoria are C. P. W. Schwegler, president of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, B. C. Nicholas, vice-president, L. W. Shade, James H. Fletcher, A. M. Kirk, C. R. Walker, S. J. Drake, J. V. Roberts, S. H. Ewing, J. P. Fowler, Capt. Kelly, R. Layritz, Frank Caries, E. R. Carver, J. V. Johnson, H. O. Kirkham, R. C. Beckwith, F. V. Braddy, A. B. Cowan, G. B. Mitchell, Gordon Ellis, H. K. Anstie, J. A. McIntosh, J. Keith Wilson, J. Bethel, P. B. Scott, R. C. Hay, A. H. Tuck, Maj. Fred Longstaff, J. L. Mara, M. P. Blair and others.

Many of those who are going with the party are taking with them their wives.

RECEPTION PLANNED

At Tofino the first reception will be held in honor of the distinguished party of visitors and a three-hour launch trip will be arranged to show them the various parts of the waterfront where the larger vessels cannot make her way. The party will also view the great pulp mill at Port Alice, near the Bandfield lighthouse and cable stations.

MEMBERSHIP IN CABINET RESTS IN VANCOUVER

OFFERED MEMBERSHIP

From the Premier's statement it is apparent that he has offered membership in his Cabinet to the two leading Vancouver businessmen who were known within a day or two. So far, it is stated, General Oudem has declined membership in the new Cabinet and Capt. Mackenzie has not agreed to enter the Cabinet without his fellow member. Evidently, the matter rests in the hands of General Oudem. If the General finally agrees to accept office it is expected that the appointment of his portfolio will be announced before the end of the week.

NO FRICTION

That no friction exists between the Government and the Vancouver business community was indicated by yesterday's conference attended by Charles Woodward, who recently wrote a letter to the Premier demanding that the Cabinet representation for his city be increased to match the city.

Mr. Woodward and the Premier, it is understood, met on terms of the utmost friendliness.

118 I.W.W.'S PUT OUT OF FARGO, N.D.

"Wobblies" Were Escorted to Boundary of Town by Throng of Citizens

Local Committee Was Composed of Men Sworn in as Deputy Sheriffs

Fargo, N.D., Aug. 25.—Citizens called into service by the sheriff escorted out of Fargo last night more than 100 illegal members of the Industrial Workers of the World.

One group numbering forty-three was taken from the county jail and accompanied to march to the "Front Street Bridge over the Red River." Accompanied by a citizens' committee, sworn in as deputy sheriffs, the party proceeded in orderly fashion to the bridge.

Returning to the jail, the deputies brought out seventy-five more men and took them to the Northern Pacific Avenue bridge.

The second group turned as it reached the Moorhead side and began throwing rocks at the deputies. There were several hand-to-hand struggles, but no one was seriously injured.

For more than a week authorities have been busy rounding up men they believed to be I.W.W.'s. "Wobblies" come to this district every fall for the harvest.

EXTENSION OF CITY LIMITS TO INCLUDE OAK BAY UNDER DISCUSSION

quire $100,000 or more, it is believed. With Victoria now definitely on the up-grade, members of the City Council are satisfied that no better time to offer Oak Bay ratepayers the privilege of coming into the city could occur. Later, when Victoria has experienced the betterments now being enjoyed by the city, it will be inclined to extend such concessions in return for extension of the city limits to the community.

If in the course of the next few years works for the benefit of the city are carried out, and when in hand, such works, as and when authorized, would be paid for by the whole district, the tax rate being struck for the whole city as expanded.

Inducements to and benefits resultant from new industries will also be shared in by the whole community. Instead of by the present area of the city only.

The absorption of the Oak Bay municipal staff into the City Hall organization would be an easy matter, the aldermen favoring the change pointing out that these employees will be necessary to carry on the work now being performed for the residents in that area.

BETTING BY NEW ELECTRICAL TOTALIZATOR

Winnipeg, Aug. 25.—Estimates as to the amount of the final payment to be made by the Wheat Pool on account of the 1924 crop are varied, but tend to centre around an additional ten cents per bushel on No. 1.

If an additional ten cents should happen to be a correct estimate it will bring the price obtained by the pool up to $1.45, and will represent the estimated economic value of 1924 wheat as apart from fluctuating exchange and market values.

MAJORITY SATISFIED

While undoubtedly here and there it is possible to find members of the Wheat Pool who remembering that 1924 wheat was quoted at over $2 on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, will not be satisfied with the price secured by the pool, it is also true that the majority of pool members are well satisfied with the results to date. It is interesting to note that the attitude generally among the members whom it has been possible to meet is that the duty of the pool is not to gamble for the highest price quoted on the exchange, but to market the wheat in such a manner as to ensure stable conditions and to return a reasonable profit over the cost of production.

INTERIM PAYMENTS

It is the consensus of opinion throughout the three prairie provinces that whatever other benefits the pool may have for its members its greatest benefit has been the system of interim payments. By this system the farmers have had their returns from their wheat crop spread out over the crop year, and in the case of the payment recently made find in the majority of cases that they have cash on hand with which to purchase twine and other requisites for this year's harvest.

FOUND BY JAPANESE

The body was found by a Japanese fisherman yesterday, lying face down in the mud of the river bank. Apparently it had been in the water for about a week.

In view of a mass of conflicting evidence, friends do not contemplate taking any action until after the inquest.

HAD NO AUTOMOBILE

It is pointed out the discovery of the body by the river adds another mysterious phase to the matter. Gilmour possessed no automobile and was unable to walk for more than a few blocks. Efforts are being made to discover why he happened to be at the river bank.

A. I. Johansen, his legal adviser, and J. Lamb, a friend, are prosecuting the inquiry.

EXPLORER DESCRIBES HIS DISCOVERIES

E. Marks Says Fish Could Swim From Lake Superior to Hudson Bay

Port Arthur, Ont., Aug. 25.—Ed. Marks, an explorer of the district, claims to have been the first man to suggest to the late Sir Adam Beck that some of the waters north of the Ontario watershed might be diverted from their course towards James Bay and turned south to supplement the Nipigon power supply, which project is now being considered by the Ontario Hydro-electric Commission.

Marks makes the statement that a trout could swim from Lake Superior to Hudson Bay.

The route would be up the Nipigon River to Nipigon Lake, and thence through the latter to Summit Lake, and thence into the streams which flow north to Hudson Bay. Summit Lake is on the Height of Land, and its waters divide to flow in the two directions, some into the Omabika, which feeds the Nipigon, and from the other end into the Little Current, which joins the Albany.

But any trout that made the trip from Lake Superior to James Bay could not return the same way, according to Marks. The fish could go down the Nipigon River, but there are falls and rapids in the northern rivers which would prevent them returning.

Politeness is benevolence in small things.

NEW PAPER MILL IN NEWFOUNDLAND

Town Will Grow at Cornerbrook, Where Governor Officialized at Ceremony

Corner Brook, Nfld., Aug. 25.—Sir William Allard, Governor of Newfoundland, by pressing a button yesterday set in motion a paper mill which will produce 400 tons of hewaprint daily. This marked the official opening of the $20,000,000 power and paper development commenced two years ago and guaranteed jointly by the Governments of Newfoundland and Great Britain.

Grand Lake, 200 miles in area, furnishes water for hydroenergy, developing up to 250,000 horsepower. Current is carried thirty-two miles to the scene of the new town of Corner Brook and the pulp mill, which will draw upon a forest acreage of 2,000,000. The annual cut of pulp wood has been estimated at 150,000 cords, which should provide employment for 2,000 men.

The town was laid out by architects and town planning experts, and a feature of it is the new hospital, which has been fitted along the most modern lines. The hospital was formally opened yesterday by Lady Allard, and speeches were made by Dr. Hayden and Sir Henry Grey, members of a touring British parliamentary party who attended the ceremony.

GERMAN REFUGEES FLEE POLAND—Because they refused to renounce their allegiance to their fatherland in a recent plebiscite held in Poland, 30,000 Germans were forced to flee from Poland back to Germany. This shows the refugees huddled together in a primitive "Ellis Island" on the German border waiting to be examined by customs officials.

FIRE IN MONTREAL MADE 200 HOMELESS

window while rounding a narrow corner.

Scenes of confusion and terror were witnessed as scores of residents fled from the flames while many others had to be carried from their homes. The conflagration roared menacingly, with great volumes of flames sweeping the sky and sparks carried on the high wind floating over long distances, threatening to set fire to buildings hundreds of yards away from the central blaze.

WALLS COLLAPSED

Time and again the firemen were driven back as great tongues of flame leaped out, while the danger from the walls that crashed down all over the blocks was great. Throughout it all the firemen worked strenuously, although for several hours it appeared as if their efforts were unavailing and that a large portion of the east end of the city would disappear in flames.

The conflagration raged until about 2 o'clock this morning. During the progress of the flames, pickpockets were active and several citizens reported the operations of light-fingered ones in the large crowd that thronged the neighborhood.

"HEARTS ADRIPT"

By MILDRED BARBOUR

THE GIFT OF THE GODS

There was no doubt whatever that Madge Demerest Bannister was spoiled.

When her story is told, it remains for the world to decide whether that fact justified her actions, or whether she was one of those unfortunate souls, who seem destined to destroy themselves in a flame of their own deliberate kindling.

From the hour she first opened her lovely eyes on a world that first adored her, later ruined her, and finally discarded her, she was a centre of interest and admiration.

In a smart pram, pushed by a French nurse with cape and beribboned cap, she took the air of an afternoon in baby majesty. Her sunny curls peeped through a bonnet of finest lace; the softest silks and wools wrapped her and she lay, smiling, dimpling, complacent, under a satin robe with a white fur lining.

Strangers stopped to admire her. "What a beautiful child! Who is she, nurse?" They tickled her chin and she cooed and smiled, and coquetted, as nearly as a baby can.

As Madge Demerest, the debutante, they were still saying, "What a beautiful girl! Who is she?"

For she was one of those rare creatures who cannot walk down a street, or through a crowded restaurant, without heads turning and comment following her.

She was still a very young girl, when both her parents went down in the Titanic disaster and Madge and her younger sister, Lila, were left to the guardianship of their paternal grandmother.

Mrs. Demerest was a grande dame of the old school. She was tall and stately, with snow white hair, deep high, and black eyes that still retained the arrogance of youth and the pride of aristocracy. She ruled her household and her circle of acquaintance with a royal hand. But in the hands of Madge she was putty. She idolized the child. Nothing was too fine for her, no whim too extravagant.

Poor little Lila, only fairly pretty and rather shy, was given little attention. The household existed for Madge alone. But Lila didn't mind. She too was one of those extra babies. With her great, grave eyes, she would watch her older sister for hours while the latter proudest before a mirror in some new extravagant costume, or danced a pas seul, like a gay butterfly, in the state of old drawing-room, or dashed off a brilliant bit on the piano.

When Madge came, with wide, worshipful eyes. Hugs was the heart that gives without reserve; that, fortunate in its giving, understands the lovely flower; but, in the distinction, distills within itself a poison that can be deadly.

Years later when Madge started westward over rolling seas with Lila, "brooding eyes" and Lila, "we're with a splitting head after a night's careless folly and groped for a cigarette, Lila would sometimes, happy with a glow from the fire, caressing Madge's bright head and Madge's gay, lifting voice, mocking the silence of the dim, old drawing-room.

Madge was twenty when she married Paul Bannister. He was scarcely out of medical school, a grave-eyed young man with the promise of a brilliant future—the sort who, by the natural law of opposites, is attracted to the butterfly.

"Don't do it!" his intimates advised him bluntly. "She's an exquisite thing, no doubt about it. But she needs a millionaire idler to keep her happy—good times, plenty of excitement. How can you become a successful surgeon, if you have to keep her entertained?"

"I love her," was Bannister's reply, "and she loves me. Love can work miracles."

"It can't change a hummingbird to expectant mothers."

Letter From Mrs. Ayars Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her

"Spring Valley, Sask.—I took the Vegetable Compound before my last confinement, when I got to feeling so badly that I could not sleep nights and back ached so across my hips, and I could hardly do my work during the day. I never had such an easy confinement and this is my sixth baby. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the 'Farmer's Telegram' and wrote you for one of your books. We have no druggist in our town, but I saw your medicine in T. Eaton's catalogue. I am a farmer's wife, so have all plain medicines to do inside and outside the house. My baby is a nice healthy girl, who weighed nine pounds at birth. I am feeling fine after putting in a large garden since baby came. (She is as good as mine can be.) Yours in the best medicine for women, and I have told about it and even written to my friends about it."—Mrs. ANNIE E. AYARS, Spring Valley, Sask.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent medicine for expectant mothers, and should be taken during the entire period. It has a general effect to strengthen and tone up the entire system so that it may work in every respect as nature intends. All druggists sell this dependable medicine. Give it a trial.

MADGE—THE FIANCEE

Before Bannister left his apartment that evening he said to Patterson:

"Excuse me a moment, old man, I want to call up Madge before we go to the club. There will be no chance later and as I haven't seen her today, I have got to hear her voice, at least." He laughed and shrugged.

"You see, I have it bad."

"By all means, I'll wait for you in the hall."

"No need for that," Bannister laughed again. "You can probably stand it. I am not mushy over the phone."

But despite his assertion, there was no mistaking the lover when he spoke Madge's name into the telephone transmitter.

Patterson picked up a book and tried not to listen, but at the sound of his own name, he lifted enquiring eyes to his friend.

Bannister was saying:

"I had a surprise to-day. An old college chum you have heard me talk of, Tony Patterson, drifted into town and I am taking him to my dinner. I am crazy to have him meet you, but he is off again to-morrow. He is the finest chap in the world as well as the best looking." Over his shoulder he winked at Patterson, who said:

"It's well I am leaving before he has a chance to see me and be disillusioned about your good girl."

He heard Madge's high, sweet voice through the receiver and even at that distance could distinguish an impatient note.

"What did you say, sweetheart?" Bannister spoke again at the phone. "That was Tony talking. He is kidding me about my taste, but would surely change his mind if he could see you."

"I don't see very well how I can, darling. You see, it's nearly eight now, and I should be at the club to receive my guests."

"All right, sweetheart, if it will really please you, I'll make it somehow; the dinner can wait."

He hung up the receiver and turned to Patterson with a rueful grin.

"I guess I am henpecked already. See how easily I take orders! Madge wants to meet you, so I promised her we would run over there on our way to the club. Come on, we will have to hustle."

Madge was waiting for them in the drawing-room.

Patterson, remembering the pose of the girl in the photograph, with the upflung arm and the unfurled ostrich fan, could not help but wonder if she had not cleverly set the stage to show herself off to the best advantage.

Not that she needed to; he was forced to admit, as he took her hand and looked down into her lovely, piquant face.

But she received them under the glow of a tall piano lamp that turned her hair to ruddy gold and revealed the satiny whiteness of her bare arms and shoulders.

Like a scarlet flower and under her glow of the lamp, her gleaming gown was outlined in bold relief against the dimness of the rest of the drawing-room. She was a shining, arresting figure who might have been posing for a tableau.

"Why haven't I met you before?" she inquired sweetly of Patterson.

For tone, her demurely lifted eyes flatteringly suggested that the omission was of great moment to her.

Patterson had an uncomfortable feeling that she was going to coquette with him even in the presence of her fiancé and almost on her wedding eve.

"I have been away almost since before you were born, I dare say," he replied laughingly. "I am a wanderer, you know, can't stay put in any one place."

"Oh, then, you are not married?" Madge inquired.

He shook his head.

"I couldn't ask any woman to follow me through all that I follow. Too much discomfort."

"Discomfort on your own boat," scoffed Bannister. "I have heard about that little yacht of yours. Tony is filthy with money, you know," he explained to Madge. "He doesn't know what to do with it all, so he gathers up poor unfortunate here and there in the ports of the world and takes them on a sea voyage to set them on their feet. It's great work, old man."

Patterson laughed embarrassedly. "Nonsense, it's purely selfish, as a matter of fact. It's my only excuse for living."

"How interesting you are," Madge lifted her eyes to his; they had seen many such eyes in many ports of the world with just that same expression when their fair owners learned of his wealth.

"You mustn't make fun of me, Miss Demerest. The fine work Paul is doing makes me feel like an utter rotter. And now, old man, hadn't we better run along, if we are going to make that dinner of yours?"

He turned away considerably while Bannister bade his fiancée good night, but he could not help but see the supreme radiance in his friend's eyes when he joined him in the hall with Madge's kiss on his lips.

He recalled it when he heard of their tragedy several years later, while he was wintering at Nice.

Tattoo Staged at Wembley Exhibition

London, Aug. 25 (Canadian Press Cable).—The tattoo staged at the British Empire Exhibition at Wembley last night for the first time is likely to be talked of for the world over.

The 40,000 spectators were fairly wild with delight over the evolutions of the soldiers to the accompaniment of the muffled drums and pipes. An especially fine performance was given by the recruits of the air force who had had only three months' service.

The final scene in the tattoo recalled the scenes of Flanders Fields. The great crowd of spectators rose instinctively when the soldiers, wearing khaki along with the penicillins from the Chelsea Hospital, Bay Scouts and others of to-day, and joined in singing "While With Me" while plain wooden crosses were presented.

MOUNTAIN PEAK

Denver, Aug. 25.—For the first time in history a woman, Mrs. B. Edmonds of Chicago, yesterday descended the East face of Long's Peak, near here. That portion of the noted mountain is a precipitous cliff of 2,700 feet, which is much easier to climb than to descend. Accompanied by two male guides, Mrs. Edmonds made the descent in seven-and-one-half hours.

MANY THRILLS SEEN

OFFERED AT CAPITOL

Heart interest, pathos, tragedy, love, suspense, thrills, laughs, excitement—all these are found in "The Making of O'Malley," the big First National feature picture which opened yesterday at the Capitol Theatre, with Milton Sills in the starring role.

This is Milton Sills' first starring vehicle, and he is seen at his best in the role of a New York policeman. The story is laid in New York and interweaves the lives of a society girl who has tired of her social position and the policeman. There is a

STAR IN PLAYHOUSE
PICTURE WAS PICKED UP ON STREET CURB

Girls who have hopes that some day a movie director may select them from throngs on a street because of their fatal beauty and make them stars, may take new hope after reading this. For that is how little Frankie Lee got into the film. Not for his beauty, however, but for his sympathetic personality which made him famous in "The Miracle Man" and other successes. He was "discovered" while sitting on a curb watching a circus street parade.

Frankie portrays the role of "Terwilliger" as a boy in "Children of Dust," a First National picture directed by Frank Borzage now playing at the Playhouse Theatre. His character is vital as it is during the early days that an incident happened which has an important bearing on the lives of three principals in the story. An admirable combination of humor and pathos makes this true-to-life romance a masterpiece.

The principal characters in "Children of Dust" are enacted by Pauline Glendon, John Walker, Lloyd Hughes and Bert Woodruff.

Frankie Lee, Josephine Adair and Newton take the leading roles in the juvenile episode.

As an added attraction this week the Capitol Theatre will present "The Hawaiian String Quartette" in "Melodies of the South Seas," with special stage and lighting effects.

CROWDS AT COLISEUM
YESTERDAY TO SEE
"LEND ME YOUR WIFE"

There was hardly a vacant seat at the Coliseum last night for the opening of "Lend Me Your Wife," and judging from the laughter and applause of the audience there will be for the rest of the week. Manager Allwood has picked another winner for his players, which incidentally is more than the popular member of his company, George Brydon, could ever do at the races. As last week it will undoubtedly be a case of go early to get a seat. There is comedy, music, action and fun every second. Dapper Will Marshall, as the nephew of a fire-eating sea captain, George Olsen, from whom he receives a handsome allowance, is ordered to get married. He writes to his uncle saying that he has got married in accordance with his wishes, although he has not done so. He even sends a picture of his alleged wife, which happens to be that of a friend's wife. Then complications follow thick and fast. George Brydon, as the husband, Mac Keith as a bride and Ruth Hamilton join the previously mentioned players in a whirlwind of laugh-provoking situations. The comedy is interspersed with some fine singing. It is doubtful if in all Eva Hart's appearances in Victoria she has ever sung a more delightful song than "My Little Charming." The Coliseum Company is rich in stagers. Every member contributed to the musical

SPICE OF NEW YORK
NIGHT LIFE IS NOW
SHOWING AT DOMINION

The Paramount picture, "Night Life of New York," which is showing at the Dominion Theatre this week, centres around Ronald Bentley (Rod La Rocque), a wild young fellow from a town in the Middle West. Ronald's father was killed by a girl named Sally in New York many years previous and also failed to make good in New York in a business way.

Disgusted with New York, he went West and made a fortune. He is off New York for life, however, and has always forbidden his son ever to go there. Young Bentley, therefore, is crazy for a taste of the "big town," but, for the present at least, he has to be content with Clay City.

"If I can't go to New York, at least I can try to make this burg feel a little bit like it," Ronald tells his father. "Anyway, Dad," he continues, "it's not New York you're sore at—it's that dumb dame that turned you down and married some other guy."

As he puts his treasures away Bentley receives a telegram from Workman announcing he will be in Clay City that afternoon. Bentley made Workman his New York manager when after he, Workman, failed in business.

In the hours before Workman's arrival Ronald tunes up his speedster, and accompanied by Carrie Reed, the stage beauty, develops a speed contest between a motorcycle policeman and himself. He would have won the race but for a passing freight train which caused him to come to a sudden halt. He and the actress are taken to jail and Bentley is notified.

We next see Ronald "doing Broadway"—and that's where the fun begins.

"Night Life of New York" was filmed "on the spot" and, as a result, is the first picturization of New York life as New Yorkers really live it.

CAMERAMAN ASSUMED
ROLE IN OFFERING
NOW AT COLISEUM

Because Clarence Brown, who directed "Butterfly" Universal's filmization of Kathleen Norris' novel, is a stickler for getting just the types he wants into his pictures, he had to enact the role of the cameraman and turn his own directorial mantle over to Charles Dorian, his assistant. This occurred during the filming of the new picture, which is now playing at the Coliseum Theatre.

Brown has assembled his complete cast at Universal City and then discovered that a character must appear who had never before been seen in the scenes. He was in a quandary until his eyes lit on Ben Reynolds, cameraman for his production, and later chosen as supervisor of all the cameramen working in Rome on the production of "Ben Hur."

"Get in there and act!" he instructed. He himself took Reynolds' place at the camera, while Dorian watched the action, and Reynolds, after a brief inspection of the action of his part, went ahead and played the "bit."

"Butterfly" is Kathleen Norris' remarkable expose of the causes of divorce, one of the sensational novels of the year, in which the causes of domestic separation are told in a tale without a divorce suit in it. Norman Kerry of "Merry-Go-Round" and "The Hunchback of Notre Dame" fame, Laura La Plante, who leaped to fame's spotlight in "Sporting Youth," Ruth Clifford, Kenneth Harlan, Margaret Livingston, Cesare Gravina, F. Roy Brown and Freeman S. Wood are among the members of the all-star cast. The picture was produced on a lavish scale, a great concert hall and other spectacular sets being shown.

Footballers To Get Their Heads Together

All Delegates to Attend Meeting To-night; Decision to be Reached Regarding Victoria Team in Inter-city League; Local Football May Comprise Second as Well as a First Division of Four Clubs

Footballers will get their heads together to-night and prepare for the approaching season, which will open late in September. President A. H. Walker, of the Victoria and District Football Association, has summoned delegates of all soccer clubs in Victoria to gather at the Y.M.C.A. at 8 o'clock.

Undoubtedly a great deal will come up for discussion, including the opening date, the plan of operation and the constitution of the team which is to represent Victoria in the inter-city league. It is expected that an effort will be made to restrict the First Division to four clubs and thereby provide a better standard of soccer. This would necessitate the formation of a Second Division to care for the clubs that failed to gain admission to the First Division.

Last year an effort was made to restrict the First Division to four clubs. The association selected the four clubs to comprise the division, but the North Warda, who were barred, raised objections and the emergency committee of the B.C.F.A. held a sitting here and instructed the local body to carry on with all clubs in the First Division. At the start there were seven clubs but one dropped out, leaving six.

Whether any of the six clubs that started last year or will voluntarily accept relegation to a Second Division will be determined to-night. The question of the Victoria team to play in the inter-city series will be thoroughly discussed. At present the Veterans have filed an entry in the league and are making an effort to form a team that will worthily represent the Capital. Other agencies are working to have a Victoria team take over the Veterans' franchise, reviving what was known in the old days as the Victoria United.

RELEASED PLAYERS
If a Victoria team is picked it is felt that some of the other clubs, besides the Veterans, would be willing to release their players. If the Veterans are to have their name in the league difficulty might be experienced in getting other clubs to let go their stars.

However, these matters will be straightened out by the Footballers through the city are anxious that the best possible team in the city be sent into competition with the Mainland and Upper Island clubs that are entered in the inter-city league. Only in this way can the Capital hope to make any kind of a showing against their opponents.

According to the inter-league schedule ten home and ten away games will be played by each team. This would give Victoria fans a chance to see ten outside teams in action during the season. It would provide a happy relief from watching the same teams playing week after week as has been the case in the past.

NEW MEN IN CHARGE
Football in Victoria this year starts out under new direction. Although to-night's meeting is open to delegates all football matters will in future be dealt by an impartial board of three appointed at the annual meeting last May. A. H. Walker is president, while the other members are Messrs. Lynn and Milton.

Spectacular Rally Keeps Championship In Helen's Patties

Kitty McKane, English Champion, Won First Set But Failed in Next Two

Helen Played Her Greatest Tennis to Dispose of Famous Visitor

Forest Hills, N.Y., Aug. 25.—Helen Wills turned back the challenge of Kathleen McKane, ace of British women players, and won the national tennis championship for the third straight year yesterday. The scores were 3-6, 6-0, 6-2. The match, played at the Westside Stadium, was as spectacular a contest as has ever been witnessed. Seven thousand people attended.

Never before has Miss Wills shown such a rare combination of power, generosity and pluck as she did yesterday in first checking her rival's early advance, then putting her to rout with astonishing decisiveness in the final two sets. It was a momentous test for the young champion against an experienced, skilful opponent, whose play has been the mainstay of the tournament, but Miss Wills met it superbly.

Not once, even when she saw her early first set advantage wiped away, did Miss Wills falter or lose her poise. Desperately as she tried to do so, Miss McKane could not check the hurricane power behind the champion's strokes or solve her baffling change of pace. In little more time than it had taken for the entire first set alone, Miss Wills had won through the remaining two to victory, allowing her opponent only two games and 24 points.

A DIFFERENT HELEN
Coupled with this dominating power were qualities of aggressiveness, keenness and a change of pace which have seldom if ever been conspicuous before in the champion's game. She was on her feet every minute, racing from side to side to bring off amazing returns, applying her services with devastating effect and putting a confident dash into her stroke.

The champion for the most part heretofore has been content to let her opponent beat themselves, but yesterday she was the aggressor with few let-ups. She hammered and raked Miss McKane's court with her powerful strokes, driving her opponent to the net. Her most effective weapon, Miss McKane went down to defeat rapidly. She could not cope successfully with the champion's shift to the left or chop strokes. She tried pluckily to stem Miss Wills' attack, but it was like trying to check an ocean tide.

KEY IS ADMIRER
In the light of Miss Wills' ascendancy in the final two sets, Miss McKane's rally which gave her five straight games and, first set, a 3-1 lead, was the more remarkable. For Miss Wills had started a dynamic rush that quickly gave her a lead of 3-1. The entire Oxford-Cambridge contingent was swept off the court, while Canada was entirely obliterated and Japan's lone entry was out.

French teams, one from Australia and one from Spain remain in the competition to-night. Rene La Coste and Jean Borotra, of France, favorites to reach the challenge round, came through easily against a Japanese-American team of Takahashi Harada and Eklund, in straight sets, 6-4, 6-2, 6-2; while what looks like the strongest American combination, Vincent Richards, of Yonkers, and Norris Williams II, of Philadelphia, advanced at the expense of a Far West team composed of W. Scott and Leon A. Farnsworth, in straight sets, 6-4, 6-2, 6-2.

C.P.R. TO PRACTICE
The C.P.R. baseball team will hold a practice at the Royal Athletic Park this evening commencing at 8 o'clock. All players are requested to turn out.

LONDON TYPIST IS FORCED TO RETIRE IN CHANNEL SWIM

France May Triumph Over Australia For Right To Meet U.S. For Davis Cup

Will it be Australia or France that will meet the American Davis cup team next month? In the challenge round next month?

As has been the case in the last three seasons, will Uncle Sam's tennis representatives meet the Antipodean outlay with Jimmy Anderson and Gerald Patterson carrying the brunt of the opposition, or will they engage the famous French pair of Rene Lacoste and Jean Borotra, who have won the Davis cup many times?

Those questions will be answered early in September when the netmen from far away Australia clash with the French exponents at Forest Hills in the interzone finals to determine the rightful challenger of the American team for the game's premier trophy—the Davis cup.

AUSTRALIANS AND FRENCH
It will mark the third meeting of the teams in the interzone final round in as many years. In both 1923 and 1924 the Australian players romped off with the honors in a comparatively easy manner.

This time things stack up differently, however. For one thing, France is certain to show its best team in seasons, possibly in the history of that country. In Borotra and Lacoste, it has a pair of brilliant chaps, fairly young, it is true. But nevertheless, boasting plenty of latent ability.

Borotra is the present national indoor singles champion. Lacoste holds the Wimbledon title. Both are clever all-round racket wielders. Each is stepping to the front rapidly. As doubles players they are particularly formidable.

Brugnon is not rated quite so highly. But plays a good, aggressive game and helps round out a tough triumvirate.

Against the French team Australia will send Patterson and Anderson, and possibly Hawkes, the latter in the doubles.

These three are anything but youngsters at the game, the first two named having played in Davis cup tournaments for the last six years.

Kirkwood Sets New Record For Course At Saskatoon of 69
Saskatoon, Aug. 25.—Playing an exhibition match here Joe Kirkwood, Australian golf professional, set a new record for the 18-hole Saskatoon course. The former record was 71, held by George Daniels and Eric Bannister of Winnipeg. For the course is a difficult 70.

Spencers Defeat C.P.R., Gaining League Leadership
Scored 4-1 Victory in Commercial League and Displace Sidney at Top
By defeating the C.P.R. at the Royal Athletic Park last night by the score of 4-1, Spencer's gained the leadership of the Commercial Baseball League. The departmentals played mappy ball behind the pitcher of Donaldson and well-deserved their victory.

Donaldson pitched a good grand ball allowing only two hits in five innings while he struck out six. Polinners, who was the C.P.R.'s choice, was not given the best of support. Five hits were gathered from his offense while he fanned three.

DEFENDERS PUSHED
The defending doubles titleholders, Howard and R. Kinsey, of San Francisco, were given stubborn resistance by D. McQuinn, of London, and Alden Smith, of Boston, who took them to two extra game sets before the champions gained the verdict.

ZBYSKO WINS MATCH
San Francisco, Aug. 25.—Stanislav Zbyzsko, veteran Polish wrestler, won two out of three falls last night from Andreas Costano, Spaniard. His first fall was in 34 minutes with a reverse headlock and the last one in 7 minutes 9 seconds with a hammerlock. Costano took the second in 6 minutes 50 seconds with a hip roll.

Pirates Roll Giants In Dirt Once Again

New York Now Six Games Behind Leaders and Are Generally Counted Out of Race; Only Miracle Can Rob Pittsburgh of Title; Rawlings Hits Homerun With Two on; Washington and Philadelphia Both Lose Their Games

New York, Aug. 25.—The Pirates generally are regarded today as the next champions of the National League. They have left New York after taking four of five games in a crucial series with the Giants, thereby almost making the pennant certain.

Only thirty-two games remain to be played by McGraw's entry, while the Pirates have 38 and a long stretch at home. Nothing but a diamond miracle can break the hold of McKee's men on the 1925 bunting as critics view the situation.

The final blow dealt New York yesterday by the Pirates 9-2 not only left the Giants six games behind first place but found their defense almost wrecked. The inner works cracked in the fifth. An infield fly went for a sacrifice as Cuyler stole home while Jackson held the ball. Three errors were made on easy chances. Their disgraced aspect indicated the resignation of the four-time titleholders to the passing of the pennant from them. As Pittsburgh retired, the Giants looked down the standings and saw Cincinnati pitching along only two and one-half games behind. The Reds lost an opportunity to gain more ground yesterday by yielding behind the brilliant pitching of Graham at Boston, 3-2.

The standing of the two leaders is as follows:

Team	Won	Lost	Pct.
Pittsburgh	71	45	.612
New York	68	54	.557

Washington and Philadelphia are separated by only a single game at the top of the American League standing. Both were belted in the West yesterday. The leading Senators lost to Detroit 11-4. Cincinnati pitchers were shelled with sixteen hits by the Tigers. Manager Eddie Collins on crutches as the result of a strained leg, directed the White Sox to a 3-1 victory over the Macks, who made only four hits off Blankenship. Blankenship's ninth straight victory.

The standing of the two leaders is as follows:

Team	Won	Lost	Pct.
Washington	74	42	.644

NATIONAL LEAGUE
New York, Aug. 25.—Pittsburgh defeated New York, 9 to 2, in the fifth game of their series yesterday, thereby taking a lead of six games in the National League race.

The Pirates made a victory certain in the fifth, when the Giants made three errors which with three hits gave the visitors six runs. Two more were scored in the sixth when Hawkey hit for the circuit, scoring a man ahead of him. Pittsburgh took four games in the series of five.

The standing of the two leaders is as follows:

Team	Won	Lost	Pct.
Pittsburgh	9	1	.909
New York	2	7	.286

CARD WIN TWO GAMES
Philadelphia, Aug. 25.—The St. Louis Cardinals won a twin bill with Philadelphia here yesterday, taking the first game 15 to 5 and the second 6 to 4. The Cardinals found the local hurlers easy in the first game and Ring's one hit inning in the second game gave them six runs and enough to win.

The standing of the two leaders is as follows:

Team	Won	Lost	Pct.
St. Louis	11	1	.917
Philadelphia	6	12	.333

REDS SET BACK AGAIN
Boston, Aug. 25.—Graham was effective against Cincinnati in every inning but the eighth yesterday afternoon and Boston took the rubber contest. The Cardinals won the first game 3 to 2. Bancroft was confined to the bench by injuries received in a collision with Bohne in the third inning before the first game Saturday. The Boston leader will be out of the game for several days more.

PLAYERS IN TROUBLE
Brooklyn, Aug. 25.—Brooklyn and Chicago divided yesterday's doubleheader, the Cubs winning the second game 11 to 4, after the Dodgers had won the opener 13 to 6. Guy Bush yielded only six hits and fanned eight men in the second game. Fournier of Brooklyn and Griffith of Chicago full eleven Cubs were sent to the clubhouse by Umpire Wilson in the first contest for protesting decisions.

TRAP SHOOTING
Dayton, Aug. 25.—M. Crothers of Chestnut Hills, Pa., went straight on 200 targets to win the permanent home introductory event of the Grand American Trap Shooting at Vandalia yesterday. Crothers' accomplishment gives him a record of 786 out of 800 birds shot in the last two years.

NOTED RUNNER HURT
New York, Aug. 25.—Injury which may have ended a brilliant career has compelled the great Swedish runner, Edwin Wide, to forego plans for an American tour. Wide captured the main event in his left leg while training in Stockholm for a series of events in which he hoped to average his Olympic defeat years ago the Swede and the Finn staged a sensational test in which Nurni was forced to his world record mile of 4:10 2-5 to win, and last summer at Paris Wide suffered further reverses in competition with Nurni and Willie Ritola.

COWICHAN ELEVEN WILL NOT COME TO CITY TO-MORROW
St. Louis, Aug. 25.—Vangilder out-pitched Rufing and the St. Louis Browns won from the Boston Red Sox yesterday 4 to 0, giving the locals three out of four games of the series. Robertson and Slater hit home runs in the eighth, the latter scoring behind Lamotte.

INDIANS DRUG YANKEES
Cleveland, Aug. 25.—Cleveland made it four straight from New York yesterday, winning 5 to 1, by bunting hits in two innings off Hoyt. New York's only run was Babe Ruth's fifteenth homer of the season. Spurgeon's fielding featured.

ATHLETICS GO UNDER
Chicago, Aug. 25.—Ted Blankenship held Philadelphia to four hits yesterday while Chicago bunched hits off Jack Quinn and defeated the Athletics 3 to 1, thereby breaking even with the pennant contenders on the series.

Dykes' double and Simmons' single broke the first inning. The Athletics' only run, Mostil's triple and an infield out enabled Chicago to tie the count in their half of the first. Sing by Falk and Hooper and a sacrifice fly put the locals in front in the second inning and they scored another run on Sheely's double and single by Falk and Hooper.

The standing of the two leaders is as follows:

Team	Won	Lost	Pct.
Philadelphia	1	4	.200
Chicago	1	4	.200

SCHOOL DAYS By DWIG

—By GEORGE McMANUS

SERIAL STORY "THE LOVE CYCLE"

BY MILDRED BARBOUR

"I am truthful," Jane replied calmly. "I tell you the cycle has swung around again and I take back in a measure what you took from me."

"This is ridiculous," Weston arose from his chair blusteringly. "Decent women don't talk like this. They don't trade men. They don't discuss taking other women's husbands away."

Jane faced him squarely. "You have never taken anything, Mr. Weston, that did not belong to you?"

"Never!"

It was almost on the instant of his denial that Jane's doorbell rang. She answered it, hoping that it was not Mansfield to complicate matters further. It was with difficulty that she recognized the man who stood there, muffled in a fur coat.

"It's Hardy, Mrs. Haynes, remember me? I am passing through your town on my way to Chicago and I stopped off to bring you a few little trinkets that belong to—Eh!—We found them among his effects, a long time after you left New York. Maybe you won't want them, but—"

"Do come in," Jane said. "It was kind of you to think of me."

Inwardly, she was perturbed as to what to do with the newcomer in the face of the tense situation which existed between herself, Helen and Weston.

But astonishment wiped every other consideration from her mind when she led Hardy into the living-room to present him to her callers.

The two men faced each other for a moment in silence, then Hardy said slowly: "Why, it's Mugsford! Man, I haven't seen you these thirty years, but I'd know you anywhere."

Jane, staring in amazement at Weston, saw him suddenly white and shaking.

"You're making a mistake," he told Hardy with an effort. "I never saw you before in my life."

"That so?" The other man laughed. "You don't remember the little term we served together, you and I. Cat-tie stealing for you, wasn't it, out West on the ranch? I had five years myself, remember?"

He turned to Jane. "Pardon me for mentioning these little things, but for the sake of old times, you know." He broke off with a short laugh. "You gave me a pretty crooked deal, once, Munsford. What is it you call yourself, now?"

"The man is insane," murmured Weston to Jane, "when you get rid of him, we'll continue our discussion. Until then, 'good day!' Come Helen."

She went with him, dazed and frightened.

Jane turned to Hardy. "Will you tell me the truth? Who is this man?"

The story he told her was simple and rather common-place, but it accounted for the past about which Weston never spoke. He had been a rancher in the West before he married. While leader of a gang of cattle thieves, he had been caught and convicted. His punishment was imprisonment in federal prison and a loss of citizenship, with a further provision that only by serving his full term could he become eligible for the restoration of his rights. Before his sentence had expired, he escaped and left the West, changing his name and effectively covering his tracks.

After establishing himself in the East, he had married under the name of Weston. He never spoke of his residence in the West, and only two other persons knew that he was an escaped felon—a man without a right to enter into the life of any community. They were his wife and daughter. Once, when he feared detection, he had told them his secret, but they had agreed to keep it from him, if need arose.

Jane knew now that all the suspicions regarding his dishonesty in the upbuilding of the Weston Motor plant were true. He had undoubtedly robbed Mansfield's father and edly robbed Mansfield's father and Jordan Marlowe.

She knew another thing—something that made her lift her head with the light of understanding in her eyes. Since Helen was not Helen Weston, but Helen Munsford, daughter of a man who was legally an outlaw, she was not Mansfield's legal wife, especially since she had married Hal with full knowledge of her father's past.

Jane again in Virginia with the rambling white farmhouse of the Dulyne's. The poplars against the garden wall stir and shiver in a breeze that wafts the scent of clover from the rolling meadows. Bees are hovering over the drowsy flowers, dipping deep into the cup of the honeysuckles, and a humming bird flashes by on silver wings.

Jane is standing again by the garden gate, a happy Jane who has no need to whisper: "Hal, Hal," with her heart secretly yearning. For he is coming to her and she waits, watching the roadway for the first glimpse of a motor.

After all the travail, after all the gossip and comment, after all the legal adjustment necessary to dissolve the alliance between Helen and Weston, peace has come at last. Weston has sold all his interests in the Weston Motor Co., and has taken himself to Europe, where the past cannot pursue him. Helen is with him, finding in her shallow soul the complete satisfaction which wealth can buy her in the social capitals of the Continent.

Of the once powerful triumvirate of Weston, Marlowe and Mansfield, there are left only Jane and Hal. They have completed the cycle together.

THE END

Many Bears Roam At Burnaby Lake

Vancouver, Aug. 25.—The proverbial cat with nine lives has nothing on Burnaby Lake bears, according to W. H. Lewis, prominent beekeeper of that district.

A few nights ago a bruin visited his ranch, destroyed five bee hives and devoured all the honey. Mr. Lewis's son lay in wait for the marauder with a rifle, and succeeded in pumping a few shots at it as it returned to the ranch and attempted to carry off another hive. Apparently the shots missed their mark. A strong dose of arsenic mixed with a quantity of syrup was placed near the hives and the bear devoured it readily, but the poison had no effect.

Robbers Who Took Three Pouches of Mail Made Escape in California

E. Campbell, Sixty-two, 'Express Messenger, Probably Fatally Shot

Santa Ana, Cal., Aug. 25.—Robbers who looted the combination mail and express car of Santa Fe train No. 75, between here and San Diego last night after shooting and probably fatally wounding Elmer Campbell, sixty-two-year-old express messenger, early to-day appeared to have made a clean getaway with three pouches of mail and other loot of undetermined value.

Campbell was found lying in a pool of blood on the floor of the looted car when the train arrived here at 4:41 p.m., and Conductor David L. Gilmore noticed the messenger did not open his door as usual to receive more mail and express. At first it was believed he had been beaten and as he lay on the floor, apparently dead, a bullet, apparently fired down at him through a ventilator in the roof of the car, had lodged in the base of his brain.

USED ROPE LADDER

A rope ladder hanging down from the roof on the outside of the car showed how an entrance had been effected after the shooting. A pane of glass had been broken out of the side door near the ladder and the door thus unlocked from within.

A check by postoffice and express company officials here and in Los Angeles and San Diego failed to reveal any sizable loss, but it was admitted that inasmuch as one of the missing pouches contained air mail the loot may yet prove to have been considerable.

STATEMENT ISSUED BY MR. MEIGHEN

Ottawa, May 25.—In a statement issued through the Canadian Press yesterday afternoon in reply to a statement in which Premier King dealt with the public discussion of the question of a Federal general election, Mr. Meighen, Conservative leader, said in part:

"The usual and accepted term of regular sessions. These four regular sessions are completed, and what the country wants to know is: Has this Government the courage to go to the people, or has it not? Mr. King has given us 2,000 words, but no decision."

"There are two statements regarding myself, one that I prophesied four years ago the present administration would not last one session, the other that I have changed my mind as to the desire for an election. These are hardly subjects on which the Premier would be expected to launch a controversy, but his statements on both subjects are untrue. I made no such prophecy, nor did I ever express an opinion against an election in 1925. The time for an appeal to the people came not while the session was on, but after the session's work was done—the time is now."

SAYS EXODUS CONTINUES

"The members of the Government have been exceedingly busy, says Mr. King. Perhaps so, but what have they been doing? W. T. R. Preston has been busy, too. Is another Petersen contract coming? Meantime the exodus continues, immigration diminishes."

"It is more than a year since that famous announcement on reform of our Senate was made, and nothing is yet accomplished. Even the provincial conference for this purpose has not been called. It is one of the badges of incompetency to be exceedingly busy and get nothing done."

"The remainder of this curious contribution of Mr. King is a divided between boasting of his Government's majorities in Parliament and complaining of the peculiar difficulties he has in the hands of imperialistic governments. He said, however, the American people were not imperialistic."

Hillquit was the final speaker on the peace programme of the congress. He said he foresaw war for the United States, particularly with Mexico, because United States magnates wanted Mexican oil. The United States people dominated the Western Hemisphere economically, and they were showing impatience to become masters of the world, Hillquit declared.

LARGE FOREST FIRE IN CALIFORNIA AREA

300 Men Fought Flames and Finally Won Battle in San Diego Region

San Diego, Calif., Aug. 25.—Three hundred men, fighting without sleep or rest for twenty-four hours, last night put under control the largest forest fire which had swept San Diego County for several years. The blaze, which threatened Palomar, a mountain resort, and the buildings at Henshaw Dam, destroyed thousands of acres of grazing land and damaged the Henshaw watershed considerably.

VICTOR F. LAWSON FUNERAL IN CHICAGO

Chicago, Aug. 25.—The remains of Victor F. Lawson, publisher of The Chicago Daily News, were laid to eternal rest yesterday. A simple funeral service was held in the New England Congregational Church in the presence of many notables of national, civic and newspaper life, and the body was buried in Grace-land Cemetery, alongside that of his wife, who preceded him in death by eleven years.

A sermon in which Victor F. Lawson, the man, was dealt with rather than the journalist who became an international figure through his publication of The Daily News and co-operation in organizing the Associated Press, three hymns which were among Mr. Lawson's favorites, scriptural readings from passages in his Bible underscored by the publisher, and a prayer made up the simple service.

His wish was that his funeral and burial should be devoid of ostentation and display, and they were, except for a profusion of flowers that adorned the altar. One spray was from President and Mrs. Coolidge.

Charles G. Dawes, Vice-President of the United States; William E. Dever, Mayor of Chicago; Melville E. Stone, partner of Mr. Lawson twelve years in publication of The Daily News, later his co-worker in organizing the Associated Press and now counsel of that organization; Frank B. Noyes, president of the Associated Press; Adolph Ochs, publisher of The New York Times, and George Rogers of The Cleveland Plaindealer, were in the great throng of mourners in the church.

In keeping with Mr. Lawson's wish, the burial was left to his few surviving relatives and a few intimate friends.

RAIN DELAYS GRAIN HARVEST IN FRANCE

Paris, Aug. 25.—Hopes that 1925 would see the best cereal crop France has had in fifteen years have been blasted by the persistent rains. Instead of the estimated 90,000,000 to 95,000,000 quintals, the yield is not likely to exceed 82,000,000. (A quintal equals 100 pounds.) The rain has not only prevented the grain from ripening but threatens to hamper the harvest, because the crops are so damp it will be impossible to put them in the barns, and unless there is improvement in the weather a large part will be lost. Nevertheless there will be almost enough to satisfy French needs without recourse to importation of wheat.

DIAMOND SMUGGLERS CAUGHT BY OFFICIALS

New York, Aug. 25.—An attempt to smuggle diamonds valued at $100,000 across the Canadian border came to light yesterday when a customs official, searching the baggage of two men who had been arrested in Syracuse, N.Y., found $55,000 worth of gems concealed in the hollowed handle of a shoebrush.

The men, who said they were Henry Margules, Albany, N.Y., and Abraham Trepper, a bookkeeper of New York City, were arrested a few days ago at Rouse's Point when customs officials found $45,000 worth of gems hidden in their baggage. They were released on $12,000 bail, but customs inspectors made a further search of their baggage, discovering the additional cache.

INHERITANCE TAX CHANGES IN FRANCE

Paris, Aug. 25.—Minister of Finance Caillaux, says The Matin, is about to introduce a bill in Parliament drastically revising the inheritance tax, especially as regards large fortunes passing to collateral heirs.

Successive governments have added a little more to the tax, so that now the state places a tax of ninety-six per cent. on a legacy. The result has been that potential testators have squandered their wealth while alive rather than let the Government get it.

Recently a prominent financier came into an inheritance of 2,000,000 francs from a distant relative, but did not get a centime, all the money going to pay taxes and lawyers' fees. Mr. Caillaux holds that fifty per cent. should be the maximum tax, on condition that the personal part of an inheritance shall include French Government securities of at least one-quarter of the total.

GOLD WAS FOUND

Leningrad, Aug. 25.—In a house formerly occupied by the tailor to the Czar, whose name is Ladvai, and who now carries on a banking business in Paris, an immense quantity of gold and silver articles, with precious stones and diamonds was discovered yesterday. Sarnia, Ont., Aug. 25.—A sub-committee of four members appointed by the United States House of Representatives to inquire into the operation of and conditions arising from the eighteenth amendment to the Constitution, embracing the Volstead Liquor Act, visited Sarnia yesterday and studied the working of the Ontario Temperance Act. SOUTH AFRICAN MEAT TRADE PLANS STUDIED

Capetown, Aug. 25.—The Board of Trade and Industries has issued a comprehensive report making recommendations for the improvement of the meat trade of the Union of South Africa. It urges among other things that a systematic attempt should be made to build up the meat trade with the continent of Europe, especially with Italy, leaving the British markets to those countries which have specialized in meeting the demand for meat of the first grade and exporting from the union only beef classed as fair to average. The report also recommends the establishment of a meat extract industry.
